This 3,775-square-foot penthouse has four bedrooms, three and a half baths and a cook's dream kitchen outfitted with a breakfast bar. Overlooking the city from the living and dining rooms, and the water from the family room, this apartment has the best of both vistas. A recent gut renovation created a spacious floor plan with direct elevator access and two cozy fireplaces. You'll even get two parking spots in the building's attached garage and one outdoors. But the biggest draw may just be the spectacular roof deck with panoramic Boston views. This Back Bay home will be hard to leave.
